What are your thoughts?

1. Many of us have followed mass online from our own churches and others. People have enjoyed seeing reflections from a range of clergy over the past few months.
2. There seems to be more discussion on the messages from the bible within families after following it online.
3. People have missed being in church physically. But are thinking there is scope for more online parish events. Maybe more people would be involved if evening meetings could be entered by Zoom etc.
4. The sense of community (people shopping for each other, checking in on people, phone call to people on their own) that has been built up over the last few months could be built on through parish links such as SVP.
5. Being forced into having more reflection time has made us realise that we need to have that reflection time in our lives.
